The concept of culture is about a century old. It was first developed in the later 19th century by the Socio-Anthropological School of England and later by that of the United States and France.<sup>1</sup> The study and research still continue and there is no unanimous definition of culture as such. Several scholars have attempted to define culture. Alfred L. Kroeber and Clyde Kluckhohn have put together a variety of definitions and notions of culture in their book, Culture : A Critical Review of Concepts and Definitions.<sup>2</sup>

The first socio-anthropological concept of culture was formulated by Edward Brunett Tylor in 1871 in his book, Primitive Culture. He defines: “Culture is that complex whole which includes knowledge, belief, art, law, customs, and any other capabilities and habits acquired by man as a member of society”.<sup>3</sup> Even today this definition has remained classic. Robert H. Lowie has defined culture in a similar form “Culture is the sum total of what an individual acquires from his – those beliefs, customs, artistic norms, food-habits, and crafts which come to him not by his own creative activity but as a legacy from the past, conveyed by formal or informal education”.<sup>4</sup> Hence, culture is considered in this way that it is a key to interpret social life and the man-made part of the environment. It is a design or a plan or a set of meanings and values according to which a society adjusts itself to different environments.

Kanniyakumari District in South India has promising cultural heritage and religious legacy. The district has the cultural and religious heritage on the location of Bhagavathi temple at Cape Comorin. Thanumalayer temple at Suchindram, Nagaraja temple with Jain memories at Nagercoil, St Xavier's Church at Kottar, Muslim Mosque at Thuckalay, Bahavathi Amman temple at Munchirai, Athikesawa temple at Thiruvattar, St. Thomas church at Thiruvitancode, Jain temple at Chitharal, Old palace at Eraniel, Padmanapuram palace at Thuckalay and the Vaikundapathy at Swamithoppu are notable memories of cultural heritage. Kottar and Koolakkadai are commercial centres over the ages. The author of 'Periplus' visited this region in 78 A.D.<sup>5</sup> The district always plays a vital role in the religious, social, cultural and economic life of the people.

The credit for the architectural beauty of the temples found in Kanniyakumari goes to these rulers. The city of Kanniyakumari have been around for thousands of years as it has been the city of culture, history, arts, economy and the hub of civilization for centuries. Kanniyakumari (Cape Comorin) represents all the beautiful things that India has to offer the world. In Kanniyakumari district many temples, churches, religious pillars and statues are situated. It is a place of mixed culture that is reflected in the arts, buildings and even in the food.

This district has vast historical background that it had produced many army Chiefs, philosophers, thinkers, scientists, poets, novelists, and grammarians of ancient and modern times. There was no disparity; casteless, undivided people as pure as the nature had begotten them, were then living here during the earliest centuries. But, it is a historical fact that we see in the later periods that this place is being subjected for various cultural influence under the Cheras, Cholas and the Pandyans, the British, and others producing diverse types of cultural societies.<sup>6</sup> Together they ruled over this land with a unique culture and language, contributing to the growth of some of the oldest literature in the world. After the middle or later part of the Sangam period, we find the place is very much nurtured by the great cultures of Buddhism and Jainism, which is traceable from many of the local historical sites.<sup>7</sup>

This district is worth visiting to explore the indigenous culture and architecture of the ages. Due to bounties of wealth, there have been consistent clashes and conspiracies among dynasties throughout historical ages. The 9th century was testimony to the clashes among the Chola, Pandya and Cherra dynasty over the conquering of the city. In 1125 A.D. the Venad kingdom took over Kanniyakumari district from the Cherras. During the reign of the kingdom of Travancore from 1550-1750 A.D. the city flourished and it holds some outstanding specimens of art and culture. In this context, it is possible to bring in to light the unique nature of the famous Shiva temples of Kanniyakumari District.<sup>8</sup>

The temples of Hindu Gods and Goddesses were enshrined with the real pillars and protected forts of Hinduism. They have the greatest influence in strengthening the spiritual and cultural aspects of this district. Our ancestors have sacrificed their lives for the construction and maintenance of these temples. Our sculptures, music, dance, mantras and every aspect of our culture were dedicated to God in temples. Indian temples are thus the standing monuments of the everlasting spiritual and cultural heritage of the district.

Literature

Sangam literature is the most valuable and copious source for the study of Sangam age. They consisted, of Tolkappiyam, a Tamil grammar work, Eight Anthologies (Ettuttogai), the ten poems (Padinen Kill Kanakku), the twin epics, Silappadikaram and Manimekalai and other poems like Tagadur Yattirai and Bharatam of Perumdevanar. At the end of each poem, the name of its author and the occasion of its composition are given. The Sangam works dealt, with the Aham and Puram life of the people. To collect various information regarding politics, society, religion and economy of the Sangam period, these works are useful. The Sangam works were secular in character.

The non-Tamil sources did not supply enough information of ancient Tamil history. The epics like Ramayana and Mahabharata provided ideas about the life of Tamil people. Ramayana of Valmiki gave information about the pearls and ' gems in the Pandyan Kingdom. Tamil literature of the classical period is known, as the Sangam literature, which is the most copious and valuable source for the study of the Sangam age. The poets that lived in the Sangam age composed a number of Tamil works. Kural, is also included in the list of Sangam works. The most ancient available Tamil work is Tolkappiyam of Tolkappiyar. Scholars believe that the work belonged to the second Sangam period. The epics Ramayana and Mahabharata were also known to the Tamils, and later they were translated into Tamil by the famous Perumdavanar. Tolkappiyam, the greatest grammatical, work or Tamil, derived its title from the name of its author Tolkappiyar. Though it is a grammar work, it also mentions the conduct of love and war and some traditional concepts of sociology. It is generally held that Tolkappiyar was one of the disciples of Agastya, a mythical figure in Tamil literature.

Art and Architecture

The word 'Art' is derived from the Latin word 'Ars' meant 'skill'. Collin's Encyclopaedia defines art as an expression of a word of thought and feeling trying to portray relationship between God and man. Art can also be defined as "the use of skill and imagination in the creation of aesthetic objects, environments or experiences that can be shared with others".<sup>9</sup> Hence Art is well defined as the production or expression of what is beautiful, appealing or more than significant. It is a universal language which people of all nations can understand. Each nation has its own mode of expression of its art, i.e., architecture, sculpture, painting, music and dance though the culture of each nation is different.

Many efforts have been made to express in a few words the precise meaning of architecture and its relation to human experience. Lethaby has approached the subject the most neatly in stating that “Architecture is the matrix of civilization”. To such a definition it may be added that view historically architecture remains as the principal visible and material record, through the ages, of mans intellectual evolution.<sup>10</sup>

Art can be divided into two main categories i.e., Visual arts and Graphic arts. Visual Arts deal with architecture, sculpture, painting, dance and music. The most imposing among visual arts, architecture, had developed into two forms i.e., secular and religious. The survival rate of secular specimens through the ages is slender compared to the religious multi differential buildings. Graphic Arts comprise wood cutting engraving bone and ivory carving, floral and animal motifs over ceramics etc. It is no exception to this universal phenomenon.

One can find different types of art and architecture in the temples of Kanniyakumari District. The architectural beauty of this beach land is greatly inspired by religions, like Islam, Christianity and Jainism. The district was ruled by the Cholas, the Cheras, the Pandyas and the Nayaks- all great rulers of south India.

The holy place Suchindrum is considered as the spiritual metropolis of the district. In this temple Dakshinamurthy is given pride of place. But in Suchindrum temple, Lord Dakshinamurthy the God of Wisdom occupies the first place.<sup>11</sup> The 123 inscriptions of the place narrate a lot about its evolution, distinctiveness and development. The presiding deity of this temple is Sthanumalayan (Thanu-Shiva, Mal-Vishnu, Ayan - Brahma). The main temple houses all the Godheads of Hindu Pantheon. The temple is a store house of varied types of sculptures. The well polished figures of Garudalwar, King Thirumalai Nayak, the musical pillars, the two Travancore Kings' Statues, the Vasanthamandapa, the Yalis,<sup>12</sup> the sculptures on the base of the Gopura are all very fine pieces of art.

Sivalaya temples in Kanyakumari District are famous due to its art, architecture and sculptural specimens. Sivalaya Ottam means running from one Siva temple to another. On Sivarathri day, the pilgrims at Kanyakumari district worship at 12 Siva temples covering a distance of 82 km within 24 hours by foot.<sup>13</sup> Huge number of pilgrims visits this temple during the Maha Shivaratri celebrations. But people from outside India are also coming to this temple not for these reasons alone, but for the existence of the colour changing Vinayar shrine situated within the main temple.

Architecturally we find several types of temples in Kanniyakumari District. The temple of Nagaraja at Nagercoil which unifies the four streams of Indian religion Saivism, Vaishnavism, century A.D. The melodies sound produced by the musical pillars of Suchindrum temple, the religious Jainism and Buddhism is a fine example of religious integration. The temple also serves as an arena of sports. The Nagaraja temple of Chera style, Cholarajakoil of Chola style and the Suchindrum temple of Pandya style clearly show the impact of Chera, Chola and Pandya rule in this District. This District is having temples of great antiquity and cultural importance. Temples also functioned as a source of history. Music and dance formed a regular part of the temple festivals. Educational institutions were also run by the temples. It is one of the most ancient and important Vaishnava temples of the district. It has been referred in the early literature of Travancore.

The Kanniyakumari Temple architecture is a marvel in itself. Built in Dravidian style of temple architecture this temple is known for intricate carvings that adorn both the stone temple walls and the black stone temple pillars. The temple has a small cupola that is surrounding by couple of smaller couple. The main entrance of the temple faces east. This door is opened only five times during the Hindu calendar year. The main entry point of the temple is the northern gate. There are other shrines dedicated to Vijaysundari and Balasundari the playmates of the Goddess. There are 11 theertheams associated with this temple. The confluence of the seas and the southern tip of the subcontinent is still revered has been revered for centuries. The sanctum sanctorum is distinguished by the three separate corridors and the main Navaratri Mandapam. There is also a huge Kodistambham or flagpost that is a feature of this temple. The Blackstone image of Kumari Amman adorned with an enchanting garland is the highlight of the Amman koil. Especially it is believed that the noses ring that could be visible from furlongs away, so much so that many ships crashed to the shore. This idol is said to be installed by Parmasura and is made of blue stone. The shrines of Vinayagar and Thaisundary are also housed within the temple. The Ghanathiswamy temple is a 1000 year old temple and is said to have been built by the King Raja Raja Chola. The architectural style of the Cholas is quite apparent in this temple. It is located near Railway Station. There are 16 inscriptions found in this temple that date back to the years 1038 A.D., 1044 A.D., 1045 A.D.

Food

Rice is the staple food of the people, although for some people in the hilly areas, tapioca is the main food.<sup>14</sup> Though there are some vegetarians among the people, majority of the people use agro, meat and fish products. Fish caught in the seas around the district during the night or early morning hours reach the markets of the interior towns and villages early in the morning. The food is spicy, and the people in the district tend to use more grated coconut in their curries and food preparations, like neighboring State, Kerala.<sup>15</sup> Festivals are held in all the district in connection with various celebrations in the temples, mosques and churches. The Ratholsav (Chariot fest) at Suchindram attracts huge crowd in the month of January. Pongal and Deepavali are also occasions for festivity and rejoicing among the Hindu Communities. Muslims observe Muharram and Ramzan. Christmas is an important festival for the Christians. In the St. Xavier's Church at Kottar, as annual festival in the month of December is usually celebrated on a grand scale and attracts Catholics from all over South India. They are played during the time of festivals in temples, and also different celebrations.

Festivals are the symbols of the way of life and culture of a country. Most of the festivals have a religious and scientific background for their celebration. They reveal the customs and the civilization of the people. In Hindu religion, Festivals have been invested with great significance. They are prescribed to enable a person to pursue his religious life and to concentrate on God on these occasions. Religious festivals especially, the temple festivals have more inspiring effects. Man believes that there is a super power presiding over his destiny and supervising all his functions Though invisible, his presence is felt by man through the manifestations of nature, and he wants to build a rapport with him through many methods such as prayers, rituals, and festivals Some of the folk-art forms particular and most common in the district are listed below:

Many folk arts are popular in Kanyakumari district. They play an important role in essaying the culture of their rich tradition. Some of the popular folk art forms of the district comprise of Kalial, Kathakali, Bow Song, Karagam Dance, and Kalari. They are exhibited during the time of festivals in temples.

Bow Song (Villu Pattu) is an ancient form of musical, a story-telling art of southern Tamil Nadu. Bow, the age-old weapon of warriors paradoxically lends itself to be used as a primary musical instrument for the Villu Pattu artists. There are Udukku, Kudam, and Thala – Kattai, etc. as supplementary instrument in their performances. Udukku mentioned in the ancient Tamil literature as Thudi, is a small drum with a slender middle portion which is held in the left hand and played with the right hand. This may be seen in the pictures and statues of Lord Nataraja, - the cosmic Dancer, adorning his left hand. Sometimes the Villu Pattu team divides itself into two groups, each trying to prove opposite view points of a subject by conducting the programme by exchange of questions and answers. This is called Lavani Pattu. The songs used by the Villu-Pattu artists are mostly traditional folk-songs. In the present days, folk art is regarded as most ethnic one and this is perfectly transmitted by bow song.

Thiruvathirai Kali occupies the pride of place among the folk dances. It resembles Kummi and is played especially during Onam festival. Young girls perform this art form mostly 8 to 10 in number. They perform in circles and sing in chorus. Kalial is a folk dance done by group of men or boys in the country side. A group leader sings song and keeps time with cymbals. The players stand in a circle holding sticks and dance around a lighted lamp repeating the songs sung by the leader. They turn, twist, lean forward and backward and move around singing to the tune. At the beginning the steps are elaborate and at times, they are also very quick. When invited to perform in a function, the players generally begin the dance with an invocation for heavenly aid and conclude the dance with a torch - dance using lighted torches. This folk dance exhibits the artistic life of the country side. This dance is very refreshing to perform as well as to enjoy.

Kathakali is a unique form of dance-drama, which has its origin in Travancore. Kathakali is a relatively recent (fifteenth or sixteenth century) development of earlier dances, which arose out of religious expression through symbolical action. In this art-form, the characters express their ideas not by words, but by significant gestures. The conversations between the characters, as well as the narrative portion of the story, invariably in verse, are recited by the singer to the accompaniment of musical instruments. The gestures by the actors on stage are enactments of the lyrics. The costume and make up of the actor are also important aspects in Kathakali. The headgears are made of light-weight wood and are decorated with pieces of mirror, spangles, and coloured stones. Usually, a Kathakali performance extends from eight to ten hours. With the advent of cinema, the popularity of this art has declined. It is now performed in the District of Kanniyakumari twice a year during the time of festivals.

Karagam Dance is a kind of dance common in the country side. It is played by both men and women during the time of festivals and marriages. Kalari also known as Adimurai in Kanniyakumari district is an ancient martial art, still preserved in the villages of this district and also in Kerala. A tradition believed to have been founded by Parasurama is known Vadakkan Kalari: and another credited to Agasthiar is called as which emphasis is on striking at vital points of the body and not on weapons, even through sword, knife, Urumi (rolling sword), Mankombu (horns of a deer), Kandakkodali, (a kind of axe), mazhu (a kind of axe) etc., are also used.

Folk is the expressive body of culture shared by a particular group of people; it encompasses the traditions common to that culture, subculture or group. These include oral traditions such as tales, proverbs and jokes. They include material culture, ranging from traditional building styles to handmade toys common to the group. Folklore also includes customary lore, the forms and rituals of celebrations such as Christmas and weddings, folk dances and initiation rites. Folk dances are dance that are developed by people that reflect the life of the people of a certain country or region. Not all ethnic dances are folk dances; for example, ritual dance or dances of ritual origin are not considered to be folk dances. Ritual dances are usually called "Religious dances" because of their purpose. The terms "ethnic" and "traditional" are used when it is required to emphasize the cultural roots of the dance.

Folk songs have a vital role in the cultural aspects such as festivals, rituals, religious ceremonies, etc., of the Tamilians. People are very much interested in songs and hence there are more verses rather than prose. Folk songs are the backbone of Tamil folk-culture. People love to sing a song on every available occasion which may be a festival, fair, procession, ritual, social or some other types of gathering. In oral literature, there are varieties of folk songs to mark all occasions. There are a number of folk songs to mark all occasions. Thus, there are number of folk songs like devotional songs, ritual songs, love songs, lullabys, work-songs, agricultural songs, etc. These are sung in rural as well as urban areas.

The people are the main human resource of the district. Their culture, religion, aptitude, habits, beliefs, talents etc have a bearing on how the district presents itself to others. Tamil and Malayalam are the main languages of this district. Hindus and Christians form a sizeable percentage of the population of the district and there are a number of Muslims dominated belts in the district. The caste system in the Society has weakened to a great extent especially after independence because of growth of education and improvements in transport and communication. Some of the communities in the district are Nadars, Nanjilnadu Vellalars, Paravas, Mukthavas, Vilakki Thalanayar, Kammalar or Asari, Nairs, Chackarevars, Kerala Mudalis etc.
